SITUATION INFORMATION REPORT

It is highly improbable that plans by antiwar activists for disruption of Washington in the next few weeks will provoke serious concern by law enforcement agencies. The rhetoric remains heated (by Rennie Davis and others), but the transferal to street action appears sluggish and significant popular support seems unlikely. There has been little new publicity generated in the last week, and the enthusiasm of seasons past just is not present this time. Demonstrators will number in the hundreds and not in the thousands and can be expected to stay in the downtown section of the city. No threat to CIA facilities has as yet been detected through the fall demonstration period.

CALENDAR OF TENTATIVELY SCHEDULED ACTIVITIES

Asterisked items are either reported for the first time, or contain additions or changes to previously reported activities.

*14-16 October, Washington, D.C.

The National Student Association is sponsoring an international conference at Georgetown University on the above dates. Student leaders from approximately 40 American colleges and universities and more than 30 countries will discuss problems of "mature concern" and ways to deal with them. This is the first NSA international student conference since the disclosure in 1967 that the organization had been receiving money for 15 years from the Central Intelligence Agency to fund its participation in such conferences. N.Y.T. 7 Oct 71

*14-23 October, Washington, D.C.

An organization identified as the Philadelphia Friends of East Bengal has announced plans to demonstrate in Washington, D.C. on the above dates. The organization claims that approximately 200 persons will participate in the demonstrations which include marches from Lafayette Square to such sites as the Capitol, Department of State, and the Pakistan Embassy. The demonstrations are intended to dramatize the suffering in East Pakistan and urge President Nixon to stop all U.S. aid to Pakistan. FBI 100 441 416 7 Oct 71

*16 October, Washington, D.C.

Approximately 100 members of the Christian Businesswomen's Society of Washington, D.C. plan to demonstrate in Lafayette Park from 10 to 11 a.m. on the sixteenth of October. The purpose of the demonstration is to reverse the Supreme Court's decision on prayer and bible reading in public schools.

*20 October, Nationwide

The recent events at Attica and other state prisons have sparked the National Student Association to sponsor teach-ins on prisons and prison reforms on the above date. Among the universities currently planning teach-ins are California (at Berkeley), Syracuse, Wisconsin, Florida State, Temple, North Eastern and Georgetown.

NY 7. 6 Oct 71

*22 October, Washington, D.C.

The People's Coalition for Peace and Justice will sponsor a demonstration at an unspecified location on the above date. The PCPJ has named the demonstration a "peoples grand jury" which will be held to afford the opportunity for welfare wives, veterans, prisoner of war wives, students, and workers to present testimony. The purpose will be to define a series of investigations that will result in charges being placed against the Nixon administration. Conclusions of the "peoples grand jury" will be used as the base for a year-long campaign of resistance by PCPJ to the electoral process including presidential primaries and the Republican National Convention in San Diego.

toward electoral politics and tactics to be used at the Republican National Convention and the year-long PCPJ strategy on elections.

On 7 October a press conference was called to announce PCPJ plans for these demonstrations. At this conference, Rennie Davis told reporters of the plans to indict President Nixon and Governor Rockefeller for crimes against the people in the United States and Vietnam. He said there will be an attempt to build a new political party, which will be a grass roots organization in America designed to build resistance to the renomination of President Nixon and to resist his election if he is nominated. The purpose of the demonstrations will be to dramatize and implement the theme that if the government will not stop the war, then the people will stop the government.

David Dellinger, another defendant in the Chicago 7 conspiracy trial, told reporters that any "distractions" created by the demonstrators will be far less than any "distractions" imposed by the U.S. Government on Vietnam. Dellinger called for a series of strikes, non-violent civil disobedience, and non-violent direct action against the government. He said he would make no prediction as to the number of people that would participate in the demonstrations, but the number would be considerable and enough to shake Washington and make a political impact.
